

Emma McQueen is an Executive and Leadership Coach with more than 20 years' experience working with leaders and management executives to create success.

Driven by a profound sense of empathy and understanding for those she comes into contact with, Emma's passion is to inspire, empower and nurture female and male leaders. Her personal approach, built on trust and respect is a foundation to lifelong relationships.

When it comes to coaching Emma's "no time-wasting" approach, will have you working closely with her to put practical and achievable steps in place. You will be made accountable for your everyday actions so that you will feel 100% confident to take the next step with either your own career, your team, your business or even your own life. Emma will help you turn your most ultimate dreams into a reality.

By applying a hands-on approach to coaching Emma will work with you closely on the pain-points in your business or career whether that be reviewing business financials on a weekly basis, coaching you through difficult leadership problems, motivating you during challenging times or developing tools to help your business or career stay on the right track.

Emma embarked on mentoring and leadership roles at an early stage of her career. She has demonstrated successes in human resources and the recruitment industry and most significantly 15 years as a corporate senior executive working in the area of cultural leadership change with the international not-for-profit organisation, World Vision.

Emma is a certified Institute of Executive Coaching and Leadership (IECL) coach, a certified Hogan coach, a member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and Superannuation Trustees and has experience on several boards in non-executive positions. In addition to this, Emma is a faculty member with Women and Leadership Australia's Accelerated Leadership program where she has successfully mentored over 100 women at various stages in their careers.

Whether you are a senior leader in the corporate sector or rapidly growing a small business, Emma's Common-Sense Leadership style will help you to become more accountable and achieve greater success.
